MEDITATION

BLESS THIS HOUSE

Bless this house, O Lord we pray,
Make it safe by night and day;
Bless these walls, so firm and stout,
Keeping want and trouble out;
Bless the roof and chimneys tall,
Let Thy peace lie over all;
Bless this door, that it may prove
Ever open to joy and love.
Bless these windows shining bright,
Letting in God's heav'nly light.
Bless the hearth ablazing there,
With smoke ascending like a prayer;
Bless the folk who dwell with-in,
Keep them pure and free from sin;
Bless us that we may be Fit,
Lord, to dwell with Thee,
Bless us all that one day we may dwell
O Lord, with Thee.

"Some folks in looks take so much pride
They don't think much of what's inside.
Well, as for me, I know my face
May nevere be a thing of grace,
And so I rather think I'll see
How I can fix inside of me
So folks may say, 'He looks like sin—
But ain't he beautiful within'."

FLAG SALUTE

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all."

STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O say! can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming;
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does the Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Oh thus be it ever when free men shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation'
Blessed with victory and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust."

Chorus:

And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored:
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

Chorus:

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.

"When music and courtesy are better understood and appreciated, there will be no war."

HOUSEWIFE

By Marguerite Janvrin Adams

She has no talent for artistic things;
An etching signed by Whistler leaves her cold,
Orchestral music wakes no glimmerings
Of understanding, and the red and gold
Of autumn sunsets splashed against the sky
She turns a shoulder to, and passes by.

But give her soap and water, brush or mop,
China to dust, a hearthstone to keep clean,
And all the armies of the world can't stop
Her happy ardor. I have often seen
Her whisk the cobwebs from the garret stair
And fluff the pillows up with loving care.

She has no talent for artistic things,
Yet there is ordered sculpture in her room
And music in the wordless song she sings
About her work with energetic broom.
So, by the virtue of that inward grace,
She makes a poem of the commonplace!

MARY AND MARTHA

Two kinds of women inhabit the earth:
Mary and Martha, and each has worth.
Daughters of Mary are blithe and gay,
Perfect for dancing the hours away.
Daughters of Martha joy in their labors,
They know not peace, but they make good neighbors.
In picking your friends, better pick 'em double—
Mary for fun, and Martha for trouble.

THE FLAG

It's the sun of California, it's the rugged coast of Maine,
It's the pines of Carolina, it's the covered wagon train,
It's a bugle call at Yorktown, it's a clipper in the bay,
It's a rustic bridge at Concord, it's a soldier lad away,
It's a country's shining glory, it's a red, white and heaven's blue,
It's an emblem and a beacon, it's the banner of the true.
It's the prairie and the forest, it's the hunter's lonely camp,
It's a homestead on a hilltop, it's a housewife's evening lamp,
It's the joy of good companions, it's a pleasant evening's end,
It's the happiness of children, it's the handclasp of a friend,
It's the magic of the mountains, it's the rivers and the sea,
It's a tolerance and courage, it's a people brave and free.
It's the kindly deeds of neighbors, it's forgetting race and creed,
It's the good works done together, it's a hand for one in need,
It's a lookout's lonely vigil, It's a worker at his trade,
It's a haven for the outcast, It's a stout heart undismayed,
It's the sunlight and the starlight, it's the rainbow in the skies,
It's humanity triumphant, it's the grandest flag that flies.

—Joseph K. Colton.

IF I HAD KNOWN

If I had known what troubles you were bearing,
What griefs were in the silence of your face
I would have been more gentle and more caring,
And tried to give you gladness for a space,
I would have brought more warmth into the place—
If I had known.

We live beside each other day by day,
And speak of myriad things, but seldom say
The full sweet word that lies within our reach
Beneath the common ground of speech;
Then out of sight and out of reach they go,
These dear familiar friends that loved us so,
And, sitting in the shadows they have left,
Alone with loneliness and sore bereft,
We think with vain regret of some kind word
That once we might have said and they have heard.
